Below Is An Article in Which Pahokee's
Retiring Mayor, John A. Dulany, Expresses

HIS THANKS TO THE CITIZENS OF PAHOKEE

I am deeply grateful for the confidence placed in me by the citizens of Pahokee for the past seven years, by electing me your mayor. Other duties require so much of my time that it was impossible for me to offer my candidacy for re-election.

Many things have happened in Pahokee during the past seven years. I am glad to have had a part in helping develop our city. I am impressed with the friendly co-operation that is being exemplified everywhere. We seem to sense our dependence upon one another in our war effort; we are more neighborly and friendly than before.

I want to make a request of each citizen of Pahokee, regardless of who you favored in the election—let's get behind those elected and co-operate with them—for that is truly the American way. Good officials invite constructive criticism—that is also the American way. But, destructive criticism of our public officials is definitely unpatriotic.

We have had no Colin P. Kelly or other great national hero from Pahokee, but like a foot ball team our boys are there, and they are running interference for those who carry the ball and make the headlines. They may be unsung nationally, but they are the heroes who are closest to my heart and to yours. Let us conduct ourselves so that they will feel that we, and our way of life, are really worth fighting for. May God protect them and make us feel our indebtedness to them is my solemn prayer.

Mayor O. B. McClure,
Pahokee, Fla.
Dear Mayor:

Your overwhelming vote Tuesday of this week certainly told you that the citizens of Pahokee appreciate the many fine things you have done in the past quarter of a century for Pahokee. I can think of no finer tribute than that you have been elected as mayor of this city.

But, in the days to come you will find many headaches. Being mayor of a town as large as small—no easy task. It calls for deliberate consideration of various problems. It will call for unselfish action from the good of the town as a whole. All these things and many more will confront you before the end of your two year term. And I'm betting on you to render decisions which will be open and above board, and, above everything else, I'm betting on you to lead the citizens of Pahokee to a point where petty jealousies and partition lines will mean the vanishing point.

It's a man-sized job but the O. B. McClure-knew job is a man who will do the things that are right at all times and come out on top with flying colors. Of course, I know that you know the job you have undertaken is no little one. However, the people of Pahokee believe in you. They know you to be honest. They know of your 25 years of fair and square dealings with your fellowman. I hope they are in this pitchfork in an effort to lessen your load, but that now rests upon your shoulders. I honestly believe you will receive the cooperation and support to which you are so rightly entitled.

If I can be of any help in any way, please feel free to call on me. Sincerely yours,
Paul Rardin

The annual city election in Pahokee Tuesday was one of the most interesting in many years. There were women candidates—for the first time since Pahokee was incorporated in 1922. O. B. McClure defeated his opponent—Mrs. Gippie Bateman—for the mayor's job by a vote of 616 to 216. W. P. Walker defeated two candidates—one woman and one man—to retain his job for another term of two years. The vote in this race was Mr. Walker 542, Doris Phillips 177 and Frank Rogelle 125.

Voting was brisk throughout the day and 854 citizens went to the polls to register their various choices for police chief, mayor, clerk and councilmen. Counting of the ballots by the election board took three hours after the polls were closed and the last ballot was counted in the wee hours of the morning. A loud speaker system was arranged for the convenience of the citizens and each ballot, as it was called, was tallied by dozens of persons who were keeping score outside the city hall.

While O. B. McClure, victorious candidate for mayor, led the ticket with 616 votes he was followed by W. A. Keen, who received 551 for a seat on the council. Others elected to a place on the council are L. L. Shirley and Horace Unwin. Lewis Friend, J. E. Cochran, Sr., and R. P. Chamberlain were other council candidates.

The police race, as usual, attracted the most attention throughout the day and the major portion of the night when the votes were being counted. There were six contestants in this race. They were Haywood Baxter, E. O. Murphy, Fred A. Simmons, W.

Lee Rawls, J. B. Elliott and E. N. Malphurs.
In the police race the incumbent, Haywood Baxter, won out by a majority of one vote over E. O. Murphy. Baxter received 226 and Murphy 225. Fred Simmons was third man in the race with 173 votes. Mr. Rawls polled 90 votes, Mr. Elliott 72 votes and Mr. Malphurs received 65.

Wiley Tillis is Named New Council Resident

O. B. McClure Takes Over Mayor's Job

O. B. McClure, 25 years a resident of Pahokee, became mayor of Pahokee Wednesday night at 8:52 o'clock when he was sworn into office by Peace Justice W. J. Larrimore. Mayor McClure had earned the right to serve as hokee as its mayor for the coming two years at the polls on Tuesday when he defeated Mrs. Gippie Bateman by a decisive vote of 616 to 216.

In a brief talk, after taking office, the new mayor told old and new members of the council and citizens present for the ceremony, that he was "making a good mayor" and that he will do just that must have been in the minds of the more than 600 citizens who cast their ballots for him.

The new mayor asked for and was promised the wholehearted co-operation of the new body of councilmen. Outgoing councilmen promised Mr. McClure that they would do everything possible to make his tenure of office successful.

"We'll probably make some mistakes," the new mayor said, "but we will have the good of our town at heart at all times and we won't make the same mistake twice." In concluding his talk the mayor thanked those who supported him and extended the olive branch to those who cast their ballots for his opponent "in order that our town may grow through the co-operation of every person here."

Following the morning preaching, service, dinner on the ground will be served, under the auspices of the Women's Missionary Society and the Brotherhood. A large Victory cake, baked and presented by the Brotherhood, in honor of Pahokee's war mothers, will be served at 2 o'clock. The program will be continued in the church auditorium, at which time the Trio will present several special Mother's Day selections. Invitations have been sent to every war mother in the neighborhood. There will be special recognition, and will be presented with tokens of Honor to the mothers, with the occasion. The oldest mother, youngest, and the one with the most children present will be honored. The pastor will offer several poems and sentiments relative to the occasion.

Visualize a small red leaf, not unlike a rose petal, resting on a plate. Surround it with a tiny heap of gray powder, a dab of greenish paste and a dozen, or so shredded strings. Place a couple of glasses nearby, one containing a half teaspoonful of white powder and the other holding a few greenish crystals.

ed potatoes. You can either have a glass of milk from the white powder in one glass or lemonade from the yellow crystals in the other glass.

How does this meal taste? Fine. Just as near the original as the canned goods with which the present generation has grown up. Furthermore, all the flavor, the nutritive value and even the vitamins have been retained intact.

They are dehydrated foods—the new "war baby." Vast amounts of shipping and storage space can be saved by the widespread use of these concentrated foods. The overseas shipment of 27 million pounds of potatoes, for example, can now be reduced to three million, which will save at least a half million cubic feet of cargo space.

Seven vegetables will be sent overseas in great quantities in their new form. They are potatoes, onions, carrots, cabbage, beets, rutabagas and sweet potatoes. Other concentrated foods recently included in the regular menus of our soldiers serving abroad are powdered soups, eggs, fruits and milk.—Wall Street Journal.

State Press Hails Synthetic Rubber Plan As Feasible

Point To Everglades As Great Producing Area If Given "Go" Sign

Florida's press has not only greeted enthusiastically, but is demanding official action on the proposal by Clarence R. Bitting, president of United States Sugar Corp., at Clewiston, that the Everglades be permitted to produce from plant life some 10 per cent of the nation's synthetic rubber needs.

Details of the $75,000,000 program, in which hundreds of independent growers would participate, have been told in more than 1,200 daily newspapers of the nation, and makes "the Everglades area major news again," according to the LAKELAND LEDGER, and which says, in part:

"Certainly the government should give close attention to the matter." It appears that this man Bitting is resolved to keep "a shouting until the sleeping giant known as the Everglades has been fully awakened and put to work at full capacity. The rich dirt has been waiting upon men with imagination, energy and money. Bitting has all three and it's possible that he is about to get tremendous results."

"This is no idle dream or promotion stunt," emphasizes the TAMPA MORNING TRIBUNE. "Bitting already has submitted the project to the WPB officials and other leaders in Washington. A 'go ahead' signal now would result in actual production by next January. It is to be hoped government officials will give the proposal most careful consideration. Surely a project which holds promise of freeing the nation from the dependency of lands half-way around the globe for a vital product merits the fullest and most serious investigation. Go to it, Mr. Bitting!"

"When this war is over science and the brains of America will have solved many of our problems which have been brought about by our dependence upon other countries for essential materials, because we will find a way to supply them or manufacture them."

attitudes," predicts the ORLANDO REPORTER-STAR, which asserts "the results to be obtained justify the fullest cooperation on the part of U. S. government officials." Bitting's proposal is described by the PORT LAUDERDALE TIMES as "one of the most promising projects suggested to relieve the rubber shortage. . . . We can rest assured that anything that has the backing of this company is not the usual type of promotion project. They deal in actualities, not maybes. When its president submits a proposal we can be sure he is not theorizing."

"This is an ambitious, far-seeing project," editorializes the MIAMI DAILY NEWS, "and a credit to the imagination and research genius of Mr. Bitting and his engineers. Everyone in Florida who has a voice in working should get behind it promptly and strenuously."

A "great agro-industrial development" for the Everglades is seen by the GLADES COUNTY DEMOCRAT in reasoning that "with the sugar company leading the way we may be sure that when the war is over and the age of plastics begins the Everglades will experience the great agro-industrial development of which it is capable."

"Everything that makes for the development and utilization of Florida's resources excites our interest and support," says the ORLANDO SENTINEL, "so we hail the plan of the U. S. Sugar Corp. to enter more deeply the field of chemistry. President Bitting, of the corporation, after months of study and planning, now proposes to grow crops suitable for conversion into rubber of a type suitable for many purposes."

Discussing the U. S. Sugar Corporation's experiments in chemistry, Agnew Welsh's "Current Comment" column in the SANFORD HERALD and other Florida newspapers opines: "Wise old Ben Franklin's advice to 'put all your eggs in one basket and watch the basket' may have been good for his day, but it will not apply to South Florida farming."

Thanks, My Friends

Believe me I most deeply appreciate the votes you freely, bravely, conscientiously and wholeheartedly cast for a different Pahokee. It's most gratifying to add this to my many cherished memories.

I extend my congratulations to my opponent and also add my sympathy.

Through this political experience—I learned many things—principally about human beings. I have heard about factions—ours are varied! Yet, they get together on voting—but part when they leave the polls. There's a continued squawk and it's your own fault.

My defeat was a knockout! Believe you me I honestly can take it and need no lillies. Be that honest with your conscience. There are no curtains now and credit me with a wee bit of admiration for I'm most proud I ran.

In referring to Mr. Mc., I frequently mentioned the GOOD man I had heard he was—I failed to find out HOW good he was—that fact remains to be seen!

Thanks a million, everybody.

Starting a new year under a new group of councilmen, it is my hope that the citizens of Pahokee will co-operate with us in accomplishing those things which will be for the betterment of all concerned.

I AM . . .

Appreciative

of the fine vote the people of Pahokee gave me in my first political venture. Although I failed to gain a seat on the council I want to thank the hundreds of friends who cast their ballots in my behalf.

Now, as private citizens let's all assist the new council in every way we can to build a bigger and better Pahokee.

"Diary of the Week," in the Sunday MIAMI HERALD depicts the U. S. Sugar Corp., strolling under a self-harvested Florida sun with a "rubber production plant" in hand. The BRADENTON HERALD finds the proposal "interesting, while the FLORIDA GROWER asserts "this will lead to a sound economy in the Everglades. Much credit is due this corporation for its pioneering."

To the Voters

I want to take this opportunity to express my sincere thanks for the splendid manner in which the voters of the Glades returned me to office in Tuesday's election. In months to come, as I have always tried to do in the past, I will continue to work for a bigger and better Lake Okechobee Farming Region. Again, let me say "THANK YOU".
